2024 Ford E-Series Cutaway

This 2024 Ford E-Series E-450 DRW Cutaway with a 176" wheelbase is a Unicell cube van designed for serious commercial use. With 83,876 km, it offers proven durability, strong payload capability, and excellent suitability for delivery, moving, rental, or fleet operations.

Powered by the 7.3L V8 premium-rated gas engine and paired with a limited-slip rear axle, this E-450 delivers confident performance under load. The 14,500 lb GVWR package, heavy-duty chassis, and twin I-beam front suspension make it well suited for demanding work environments and consistent daily use.

The Unicell cube body provides a large, square cargo area ideal for maximizing storage and organization, while the extendable rear ramp allows for easy loading and unloading of equipment, carts, appliances, or freight. This setup is especially well suited for delivery routes, service businesses, and logistics operations.

Inside the cab, the layout is functional and comfortable with power windows and locks, cruise control, bucket seats, and air conditioning, making long workdays more manageable. Practical safety features and electronic stability control help provide confidence on the road.

Well maintained and work-ready, this 2024 Ford E-450 Cube Van is a dependable solution for businesses looking for a capable, versatile, and professional-grade commercial vehicle.
